About Me

Hi, I'm Rauf, a second-year BSAI student at QUEST University, Nawabshah. I'm also a passionate frontend web developer intern at Icreativiz. I enjoy developing visually captivating web applications. Additionally, I work on AI and machine learning projects and have a keen interest in hardware-related innovations. In fact, during my current (third) semester, I'm working on an exciting project that integrates both hardware and software.

Education

Degree	Institution	Year

THE BAND

Ed Sheeran

Ed Sheeran, a British singer-songwriter, has achieved global superstardom. He began his career busking on London streets, independently releasing EPs and building an online following. His debut album, "+" (2011), featuring hits like "The A Team," propelled him to fame. Subsequent albums, "x" (2014) and "÷" (2017), produced chart-topping singles like "Thinking Out Loud" and "Shape of You." Sheeran's live performances are known for their intimate and energetic atmosphere. He has embarked on extensive world tours, selling out arenas and stadiums worldwide. His "Divide Tour" ranks among the highest-grossing tours in history. Beyond his solo career, Sheeran has collaborated with numerous artists and used his platform to support various charities. His unique blend of genres, captivating songwriting, and engaging live performances have earned him a devoted global fanbase.

Playlist

In this playlist, I first cover the basics of frontend development – not the fundamentals of HTML and CSS, but topics like sections in a website, navigation bars, and similar elements. Then, I'll showcase some projects to apply these concepts (the ones you just seen). Afterward, I'll introduce frameworks like Flask (Python) and React (JavaScript) to take your skills further.
